

Seattle-based Theatre33 brings Constellations to Edinburgh Fringe 2026

Seattle, WA / Edinburgh, UK – April, 2026

Theatre33 brings Constellations by Nick Payne to the Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2026, marking the company's international debut with an intimate and emotionally precise two-hander exploring love, choice, and the infinite paths our lives can take.

A man meets a woman. A simple encounter begins – then begins again, differently. In Constellations, each moment fractures into new possibilities, tracing a relationship across multiple realities. With minimal staging and a focus on performance, the production invites audiences to experience the same story from shifting perspectives, where even the smallest change can alter everything.

Constellations is a piece that lives in the smallest shifts – a word, a pause, a hesitation,” says Marianna Chebotaryova, Theatre33's artistic director. “We wanted to create a version where the audience feels every variation as something immediate and personal.”

Performance Details

Venue: theSpace on the Mile

Dates: August 7-15

Time: 16:10

Tickets: tickets. thespaceuk.com/event/911:5221/

Press Contact

Christophe Peyras

info@theatre33wa.org

www.constellations.show

About Theatre33

Theatre33 is a Bellevue-based multilingual theatre company focused on intimate, actor-driven storytelling. Their work brings together diverse voices to create precise, emotionally grounded performances that explore human connection across cultures and perspectives.